

It's Up To Us:

Navigating Change Through Community, Identity and Collaboration

The Need

For organizations working to make a difference, creating effective collaborations and positive working cultures is essential for their ongoing success. Yet it can be challenging to create and maintain these inspired atmospheres. Even for the most innovative leaders, the speed of change that is taking place impacts the effective collaboration and individual wellbeing can easily break down, which quickly impacts the team's ability to reach optimal potential.

Outcomes

- Learn how to navigate change with success
- Strengthen positive relationships
- Enhance your teams working culture
- Invest in the wellness and wellbeing of everyone on your team
- Support positive group engagement
- Renew your group's inspiration

About the Session

This unique workshop is less about providing participants with quick fixes to complex challenge, but rather is designed to support individuals turning to one another to help members find their own way.

To do this, the session draws on circle traditions, culminating with participants collaboratively navigating complex ideas through a circle-based exchange. Members will have the opportunity to experience the power that circle traditions and critical inquiry provides, but members will learn how they can use such structures in their current locations.

Who Should Attend?

Organisations who are looking to enhance group relationships, strengthen effective collaborations, increase individual wellness and create a renewed sense of inspiration and purpose for everyone. This session is specifically designed for people working to make a positive difference.

What Others Say

"this session was inspirational, timely and empowering!- I felt much more comfortable in a circle"

"it was a positive experience and I felt empowered, best session I have been to for a long time, thoroughly enjoyable"

"thought provoking, the nature/set up/structure of the workshop being interactive was valuable, thanks for the inspiration and to really look at my beliefs, great workshop"
